

Agenda for the CFCWRT July Member Forum

CFCWRT member	Topic	About the speaker
David Jordan	To play the Star-Spangled Banner.	CFCWRT member David is our Round Table's Drummer Boy.
Joanna McDonald	"Be not afraid" - Panic, cowardice and courage among Civil War soldiers	JoAnna M. McDonald, Ph.D., is a historian, writer, blogger and public speaker. She is featured on the Emerging Civil War web site and the author of eleven books on the Civil War and WWII, as well as numerous journal and newsletter articles regarding U.S. Marine Corps history. JoAnna's next book is R. E. Lee's Grand Strategy & Strategic Leadership: Caught in a Paradoxical Paradigm .
Jim Horton	"Forgotten Soldier" – My discovery of a civil war ancestor and his regiments, and my search to find him.	Jim Horton is a professional artist who paints Civil War, as well as other, themes. Jim was a member of the Pittsburgh, Pa. Civil War Round table before moving to Wilmington.
Tom Christianson	"Firepower and Mobility" – The impact of mounted infantry with repeating rifles at Chickamauga	Lt. Col. Tom Christianson, U. S. A. (Retired) taught history at West Point and at the Army Command and General Staff College. He has participated in the "staff rides" for military leadership classes studying the battles and battlefields of the Civil War.
Lance Bevins	Infantry Brigades and Regiments of the Army of Northern Virginia: July 1-3 1863	Lance Bevins is a VMI graduate and a retired Major of Marines. Lance is a veteran of Vietnam and served at Arlington Cemetery as part of the famous "8 th and I" barracks in DC. Lance has lived in NC most of his life and in Wilmington since 1983.